

NETWORKING

Grama Vikas (GV) believes that that a strong network among NGOs will have a lot of bearing on the mindset of Policy makers to design PRO-POOR policies. Network of NGOs will have the following advantages:

- Horizontal learnings
- Resources can be shared among the NGOs
- Can design COMMON PROGRAMMES to create greater impact on the mindset of the bureaucracy
- Can lead networking of primary stake-holders as well

There are many other advantages.

GV is a member of district NGOs network called KOLAR VOLUNTARY ORGANISATIONS NETWORK (KOVON).

GV has promoted a network of small NGOs working in 5 taluks of Kolar district called COLLECTIVE ACTIONS NETWORK (CAN) which has been meeting regularly since September 2012 on every second Saturday in GV's head quarters.

GV is also participates in the state level NETWORK of NGOs called FEDERATION OF VOLUNTARY ORGANISATIONS IN URBAN AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT (FEVOURD-K) which as an office in Bangalore.

GV also participates actively in a state level network called JANAVIKAS which has a branch in Kolar district named JANAVIKAS Kolar. It works to empower the members of GRAMA PANCHAYAT.
